

Welcome Ody!

Matt Odenwelder became our new youth pastor (part-time) on September 1, 2007. We will let him introduce himself to you.

Hello! My name is Matt Odenwelder, but most people call me "Ody." I am very happy to report that I've been chosen to spend my time with the youth of this church, and I look forward to all of my interactions with the members of this body. A little about me: I'm originally from the Pocono Mountains, but I've spent the last 5 years in Lancaster attending Lancaster Bible College. I majored in Youth Ministry, and graduated last December. Since then I've had a wild time trying to figure out where God would have me go next, and I am ecstatic that He would have me serve YOUR youth ministry! Right now I'm 23, but I look 18, and I sometimes act 14. I've been blessed with a very supportive girlfriend, Angela, who's also very quiet, and we look forward to taking "the next step" in our relationship sometime in the near future. I simply cannot wait to get to know the great people of this church and kick off the Youth ministry... We're gonna have a lot of fun, and even learn a thing or two about Jesus and Life while we're at it.
